JOIN US FOR AN AMAZING LEARNING ADVENTURE ON THE EQUATOR!

Ecuador & Galápagos Islands
March 6-21, 2015

OSU Department of Natural Resource Ecology & Management

CONTACT: Dr. Tom Kuzmic, 015 Ag Hall, thomas.kuzmic@okstate.edu

TRAVEL WITH PURPOSE
- Examine linkages between people and the land.
- Connect with culture….know it by living it!
- Slow down, get off the tourist track and have “real” experiences with “real” people.
- Stimulate and infuse memorable learning with fun and adventure!
- Change the way you think about our world!
- Become an open-minded and broad-thinking member of the global community.

NREM 4093: A spring semester course with I-designation.

Eight weeks of pre-trip classes that create a foundation of ecological and cultural awareness, build survival Spanish skills, and foster a “travel savvy” mindset.

Enrollment open to all OSU students!

All class levels and majors welcome to join us!